Summary

A self-taught, full-stack web developer specializing in both front end and back end, building responsive and scalable web apps from concept to deployment since June 2021. Also a self-taught computer maintenance technician since 2015 and a cellular telephone maintenance technician since 2012.

You will see gaps and sudden career changes in my CV, most of them are because I'm a refugee in Egypt and I'm facing lots of barriers and obstacles, but the bright side is that they gave me diverse experiences. I'll be happy to explain them if needed. Thank you for reading. Looking forward to hearing from you soon.
